

Cassie J. Doyle

Deputy Minister, Natural Resources Canada

Cassie Doyle was appointed Deputy Minister of Natural Resources Canada in June 2006.

Ms. Doyle is an accomplished leader with 25 years of experience building successful public service organizations at the municipal, provincial and federal levels of government in Canada. Prior to joining NRCan, she served as Associate Deputy Minister, at Environment Canada.

Ms. Doyle came to the Government of Canada from the British Columbia Assets and Land Corporation, where she was President and CEO. From 1992 to 1999, Ms. Doyle held senior positions in the Government of British Columbia, including Deputy Minister of Environment, Lands and Parks; Small Business, Tourism and Culture; and Housing and Consumer Services, as well as Assistant Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs.

Ms. Doyle holds a Master of Social Work degree in Public Policy and Administration and a Bachelor of Arts degree in Sociology.